

The Gratuities

For Catholic School Parent Appreciation

Patricia McMillan

Blessed are they who go to meetings
For they meet with high approval from teachers and administration.

Blessed are they who serve on committees
For they shall be known as leaders in commitment.

Blessed are they who chaperone on field trips,
For they carry out an essential role in our educational journey.

Blessed are they who work lunch and recess duty,
For they shall receive words of praise from their teachers.

Blessed are they who are Room Mothers,
For they always will find room in the hearts of hassled homeroom teachers.

Blessed are they who are fundraisers,
For their efforts go towards raising up our academic excellence.

Blessed are they who do every other thing under the sun to enhance the parent-student-teacher partnership,
For they shall be called shining examples of living in the light of Christ.

Blessed are they who share their time and talent in our school,
For they are surely treasured by faculty and administration.

Patricia McMillan is a first grade teacher at St. Mary Magdalene School in
